

Roy Gordon OD

Dr. Roy Gordon joined Cascadia Eye in 2023 with specialty training in ocular disease, post-operative care, and contact lens fittings. Dr. Gordon received his optometry degree from the University of Missouri St. Louis, and has affiliations with the Optometric Physicians of Washington and the American Optometric Association.

Dr. Gordon has been in private practice as an optometrist on Whidbey Island since 2012. He has been the winner of the Whidbey News-Times “Best of Whidbey – Eye Care Professional” award since 2019. He is passionate about providing great service to his patients and his community.

In his words, “I consider myself fortunate to belong to the Whidbey Island community and provide eye care to those who live and work here as well. Optometry is a dynamic profession that is constantly evolving, but it’s the ability to support each patient in a primary healthcare setting I find the most invigorating.”

Family and Personal Passions

Originally from Dayton, Ohio, Dr. Gordon enjoys running, camping and exploring the Pacific Northwest and Canada. He is married to his wife, Nicole, who is a native Whidbey Islander. Together they stay busy parenting their son and Bernedoodle.
