

C. Dan Siapco, MD

Dr. C. Dan Siapco joined Cascadia Eye in 2003, and rapidly gained a reputation in Skagit Valley as the doctor to choose for cataract surgery, winning the award from Northwest Business Monthly for “Best Northwest Doctors in Skagit Valley” after only a few short years here. Dr. Siapco is a board-certified ophthalmologist. He graduated from Loma Linda University School of Medicine, interned at Sacred Heart Medical Center in Spokane, and completed his residency at the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Siapco has performed well over 12,000 cataract surgeries. He has extensive experience with presbyopia-correcting intraocular lenses and has been implanting them for 18 years. Dr. Siapco is available for exams and consultations in our Mount Vernon and Whidbey Island locations and provides surgical and laser procedures in our surgery center in Mount Vernon.

Family and Personal Passions

Dr Siapco and his wife Wendy are passionate about helping the underprivileged in the world and their nonprofit, “Eyewitness Missions”, has allowed them to assist in restoring sight to hundreds of patients worldwide who otherwise would not have access to cataract surgery. He is an avid musician and has been playing the guitar and writing music for over 30 years. He and his wife have been blessed with two sons, Christian and Asher.
